3.1 Introduction to the RoMigSc project activities

In the first part of the seminar the project Coordinator, Veli Kreci, gave a welcome address, introduced the agenda and asked participants to introduce themselves with special emphasis on their work in relation to the topic. During introductions Mr. Kreci took the opportunity to present the project activities specifically, the WPs 3, 4, 5, & 7 were mentioned as part of interventions as a response to challenges of inclusion in schools. During his presentation he focused on the aim of national seminar, training for teachers, training for volunteers, volunteering work and dissemination of the results of the project. In addition, he explained the role of SEEU as a leader partner in WP4 related to volunteering activities. He emphasized the role of participants in sharing their experience and input for formulation of better policy recommendations, which will be presented to European Commission.

Moreover, the E- Learning Platform was explained as one important project output and a great tool for teachers and social workers. Uploaded materials in the platform and quizzes were presented which need to be taken after attending the training.

3.2 Presentation of good practices of inclusion of Roma children in schools

The session was followed by detail presentation by Mr. Ixhet Memeti, Ombudsman, in regard to recently released report on Roma Inclusion and potential obstacles for effective strategies for inclusion. The Ombudsman presented the report titled “Ombudsman's Perception on Implementation of the Decade of Roma Inclusion and National Strategy 2005-2015 in the Republic of North Macedonia” which was followed by interactive discussion.

Mr. Samka Ibrahimovski, Member of the Assembly and Leader of PCER Roma Emancipation Political Party in his presentation gave an overview on “challenges for effective implementation of strategies for inclusion” from political perspective followed by discussion on need for better coordination and cooperation with schools and teachers in achieving better results.

Professor Maja Muhic, in her presentation provided examples what to consider when teaching in multicultural environment; how to deal with stereotypes in classroom; national strategies for better inclusion and issues with integration in Macedonian society.

4. Interactive discussions for formulation of policy recommendations

All sessions were organized as interactive as possible with aim to provide equal basis for participation. In line with discussions below policy recommendations could be summarized:

- we need to assure that policy measures are in line with needs of Roma children;
- policies to be changed according to the needs; policies which were successful to be general, to be implemented not only for Roma children but for all children in need;
- there is a need for early warning system (SMS-text message) to the parents that 'your child is not at school'- warning on time so we can prevent drop-out rate to increase;
- protocol for data on circular migration, social administration to forward the information with local administration and the schools;
- volunteering- proves to be of great importance in increasing awareness as well as fostering school inclusion
- at university 'volunteering' course to be included in t curriculum as an elective course;
- social workers to be included in t policy making process;
- case management access –working case by case with families;
- social workers to visit families of Roma children who do not attend schools in order to lower the drop-out rate;
- a need for day center for the children in streets, these children will be registered in schools and through the day centers they can do their homework with mentors/tutors

5. National Seminar Evaluation Analysis

At the end of the seminar, participants were asked to complete the national seminar evaluation form and certificate of attendance was handed in. The evaluation questionnaire was filled in by 30 respondents, in the age group from 18 to 56 years, among them 11 males and 19 females.

Figures 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 are giving summary of training evaluation:

- Majority of respondents were teachers (62%), followed by civil society activists/volunteers (26%), students (9%) and public administrator (3%).

- Figure 2 shows that 74 % of respondents have been involved in the area related to Roma children, 18% in the area of volunteering, 5% in the area related to migrant children, and 3% of respondents have not been involved in any of the areas. Further on analysis show that 70% of respondents had previous experience with specific methods to integrate Roma and migrant children into learning environment.
- As Figure 3 shows, the respondents were very satisfied with the training - on the scale from 1 to 4, satisfaction was 3,68. Most of the respondents were satisfied with the materials in e-classrooms (score 3,7), with discussion about general context of integration of Roma and migrants (3.67); and opportunities to exchange experiences with peers and colleagues (score 3,67).
- From Figure 4 it is evident that the level of satisfaction with opportunities to discuss things was slightly higher than the perception of learning new knowledge (77% vs 60%).
